Name Research and Art Project

Objectives:

- To explore the process of giving names in your family/region/country;
- To research and find the meaning of your own name;
- To create a visualization that represents your name such posters, handicraft, drawing, etc.

Spoken Production:

- I can give detailed information, accounts of experiences, describe feelings and reactions.

Directions:

1. Find out how the people in your family, community or country give name to a person by asking your parents or searching the web.
2. Research the origin of your last name and find out the meaning of your first name(s).
3. Create/design/make a poster or any type of artwork that will represent or explain the meaning or origin of your full name.
4. Present your artwork in class (1-2 minutes).

Rubrics:

50% Artwork

	2pts	1pt	0pt
Relevance	Details on the artwork is related to the meaning of the name and increase the audience's understanding.	Details on the artwork relate to the meaning of the name but are too general or incomplete. The audience needs more information to understand.	Details on the artwork have little relevance to the meaning of the name. The audience is confused.
Creativity	Project is unique, well thought-out and does not look like the others.	Project is nice and works, but is not unique.	Project appears forced or not given much consideration and effort.
Neatness		Project is clean and organized.	Project is sloppy, dirty and unorganized.

Presentation Tips and Guide:

- Read The origin of British family names found in your Workbook, page 6.

During your presentation in class, try to answer the following questions without notes:

- What is your name?
- Where are you from (country, city/town/village)?
- What is the process of giving names in your family/region/country?
- What does your name mean in your native language and in other language?
- Why do you have this name?
- Who gave you this name?
- Who was the first person in your family, which has/had the same name?
- Which famous persons in your country had your name?
- What is nonofficial version of your name (nickname)?
- Do you wish to change your name? Why/Why not?

Note: This document serves as your test paper. Bring it to class during your presentation.
